ANNOUNCEMENT

It is brought to the general attention that the Provisional Revolutionary Committee has moved from the battlefield Petropavlovsk to quarters in the “House of the People,” Lenin Prospekt No 39 (fourth floor), and it is instructed to apply there for all certificates and instructions.

VICTORY OR DEATH

(A Conference of Delegates)

On the question of arming the workers, the Conference mandated the arming of the working masses. This was completed to the loud approval of the workers themselves, and cries of “victory or death.” The workers expectations are being fulfilled to the utmost, for the sailors and soldiers are bursting for active work in the combat detachments.

Movement of Trains to Oranienbaum Halsted

By order of the Provisional Revolutionary Committee, movement of trains to Oranien- baum has been halted. Trains set out in exceptional cases, and with the special allow- ance of the Defense Committee. There are increased guards of railroad police and cadets at all stations.

Arrest of the Head of the Pacific

Batis, head of the Political of Baltic, was restrained by our patrol while attempting to flee to Fort Totleben, and was returned to Kronstadt. Several other Communists were restrained along with him.

In Petrograd

According to reports, meetings are being held at all factories in Petrograd, at which the events in Kronstadt are discussed. The workers’ attitude is on the side of Revolutionary Kronstadt, and they are trying in every way to make contact with us. The Communists are preventing this, throwing all their forces into observation of and spying on the workers, soldiers and sailors.

The course of arrests has intensified, especially among the sailors. Sailors are forbid- den to be absent from the ships. Commissars and Communists are occupied with intensi- fied spying. Street gatherings are broken up by armed detachments of Communists.

The bread ration for the populace has been decreased; 3/4 pound is issued for two days.

Latest News From Petrograd

Just now, there has been a report that the gigantic Brick Plant No. 1 has gone on strike. The workers of the Baltic Factory have refused to work. Increased guards of Communist combat detachments and cadets have been placed near the moorings of the battleships Gangut and Poltava.

Sailors who succeed in breaking through to Oranienbaum are arrested at the station. All sailors living in private apartments are ordered to move to the vessels.

Normal Life in the Town

There is complete order in Kronstadt, unbroke- ken since the moment of the transfer of power to the Provisional Revolutionary Committee. All organizations are working normally, and there has not been a single hour of work stoppage. The streets are lively. In all three days not a single round has been fired. The Provisional Revo- lutionary Committee, in order to be closer to the populace, has moved from the Petropavlovsk to the “House of the People.”

Flight from the Party

The following declaration arrived at the Provisional Revolutionary Committee: “I recognize that the policy of the Com- munist Party has led the country to a dead end because the party has become bureaucratized, learned nothing, and I no longer consid- er myself a member of the R.C.P., but entirely give my support to the resolution taken at the general town meeting of the 1st of March, and ask that my strength and knowledge be used. I ask that the present be published in the local newspaper.”

At the end of 1919, official reports were published in ‘Izvestia of the Central Execu- tive Committee’ that Maximalists participated in organizing the blowing up of the Moscow Department of the R.C.P., and in armed preparesations in the South, including the murder of collective farmers. I, considering terror against the Socialist Parties to be unacceptable, left the ranks of the Socialist-Revolutionaries Maximalists because of these reports.

Recently I received information from a completely trustworthy source that this was all the one of the means of party struggle by the Com- munist, and that the court was forced to acquit the Maximalists. The press, located in the par- ties, the heads of the Communist, was stupidly silent about this.

In strength of the above, I ask that I no longer be considered a candidate member of the Communist Party. I am returning to the ranks of the Union of SR-Maximalists, the slogan of which has always been, and shall be, “Power to Soviets, and not Parties.”

III

I, a soldier of the 4th Artillery Division, was deluded and became a sympathizer with the Communist Party. Now I am leaving that delusion which gave me no success, and do this in order to move ahead hand in hand with the Revolutionary Committee.
